INSTALLATION

1. Preparing the installation site:

- Do not install the breeze block on the smooth and fragile bases such as ceramics, mosaic, tiles.

2. Preparing the mortar mixture:

- Option 1: Using the normal mortar mixture which is the same to install other building materials like bricks, blocks. We recommend using the white cement for the mortar.
- Option 2: Using the special ready mix mortar or cement adhesive for wall and following up the instruction of mortar manufacturer

Notes: The mortar mixture must be dry enough (not too wet), and choose the mortar grade on the request of the project.

3. Watering, curing the breeze cement blocks

- Watering the breeze blocks before installation is important.
- Watering the finish wall after installation within 5 consecutive days (4 times per day).
- These steps are very important which effected directly to the wall quality later.

4. Preparing the installation space:

- Measuring the height and width of the estimated wall.
- Equally divided the distance of the blocks.
- Using the specialized tools to make sure the perpendicular of the wall on the ground surface.

5. Installation:

- Starting the first block from the bottom corner
- Applying the 10mm mortar layer on each top and side faces of the block and lay they fix into the correct positions.
- Using the trowel to float the mortar joints. Getting all the redundant parts out to get the nice joint looking.
- The best joints are in between 5-10mm. It can be flexible changed but less than 20mm for the installation areas of over 2.5 meter height x 3 meter width
- Using the normal tile cutting machine (same as cutting machine for encaustic cement tile, ceramic tile) if needed.
- If the wall is over 2.5 meter height, it should be locked by the 3-5cm concrete beam.
- If the wall is over 4 meter width, it should be locked by the concrete or brick pillar
- The anchorages should be used for the installation of the big walls.
- Water based acrylic paint to used.
